The old baskets are in lovely golden browns, dull reds, quiet greens and black, but, some of the new are gleeful in emerald, scarlet and ultra marine. From this it would seem that in some respects the ancient aborigines through their limitations had a distinct advantage. It cannot be argued, however, that inherently their taste was at fault. Of all the baskets, perhaps the loveliest are those wrought by the Indians of the Pomo and Mariposan tribes, though from all sections of the country splendid specimens have come. The Northwestern tribes generally have most patently demonstrated in their basketry the native genius for decoration, though the tribes of other sections have also much fine work to their credit. The process of basketry is interestingly illustrated in the National Museum, and the transition from it to other forms of the textile art graphically set...
